Call For Papers 2022 Submittal Link

To submit a paper, please follow the highlighted link. Submittal must include information/biographies for all speakers and an abstract or description of your presentation. If you have any difficulty completing the form, or experience technical difficulty, please contact the following:

JOHN KILLIPS (MWEA) john.killips@ghd.com

Want to improve the likelihood your paper gets accepted?

1. Complete your submission by the deadline (Nov 19, 2021). Submittal must be complete with speaker information, presentation title, and abstract. Identify all presenters at the time of submission.
2. Please ensure, to the greatest extent possible, that all presenters will be available for both days of technical presentations at the conference (Monday March 28, 2022, and Tuesday March 29, 2022).
3. Think of a creative, eye catching presentation title (that's not too long).
4. Carefully write your abstract, or a narrative description of your presentation.
 - Abstracts should be approximately 400-750 words.
 - When preparing your abstract, focus on clearly articulating the:
 - Purpose of your presentation
 - Benefit and relevance to the water/wastewater industry
 - Provide enough details to show 50-minutes of content
 - Alternatives evaluated and project status
 - Key findings and conclusions
 - Unique aspects of your project
 - Omit any graphics or attachments. Abstract should be text only. If a list is included, please provide a numbered list instead of a bulleted list.
5. The most current conference information is available at <https://awwa-mo.org/> and at www.mwea.org.
